The following reference table is a list of Machine Types and their associated required training course and reimbursement rates. To find what training is required for a specific Machine Type, find the Machine Type and the required training will have an "X" indicated under the course. If there is a date in the box, this indicates that in order to service the associated Machine Types, this training must be completed by that date.

Example: For Machine Type 8862, the required training is:
RXW02
XW2001R200
Server+
XW0001 completed before January 2007
